KEY RISKS6. What are the key risks associated with this product?

Below are the risks associated in the product which may cause significant losses if they occur.

Capital Market Risk	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors, which will result in a decline in the fund's Net Asset Value ("NAV").
Credit Risk / Default Risk	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Credit risk relates to the creditworthiness of the issuers of the fixed income securities and their expected ability to make timely payment of interest and/or principal. Any adverse situations faced by the issuer may impact the value as well as liquidity of the fixed income instruments. In the case of rated fixed income securities, this may lead to a credit downgrade. Default risk relates to the risk that an issuer of a fixed income security either defaulting on payments or failing to make payments in a timely manner which will in turn adversely affect the value of the fixed income security. This could adversely affect the value of the fund. • The Manager will take reasonable steps to ensure that the credit risk/default risk is managed by ensuring the Funds invest in fixed income securities issued by fundamentally strong issuers with good credit worthiness that can ensure timely payment of their obligations.
Sector Specific Risk	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the funds invest in a specific sector, the funds are vulnerable to factors associated with the particular sector it is invested in. • Therefore, any material changes associated with the sector such as adverse developments in political, economic, competition and insurance coverage may have an adverse impact to the value of the funds. • The Manager will take reasonable steps in ensuring the risk is managed by monitoring and determining effective asset allocation, adhering to the funds' investment objectives and investment restrictions and limits and escalating and reporting investment matters to the Investment Committee of the fund.
Stock Specific Risk	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Price of particular stock may fluctuate in response to the circumstances affecting individual companies such as adverse financial performance, news of a possible merger or loss of key personnel of a company. Any adverse price movements of such stock will adversely affect the fund's NAV. • The Manager will manage the risk by investing in securities within the approved investment limits across asset classes and market sectors so that the volatility of the value of the investments could be mitigated. It can also be mitigated through having robust and disciplined valuation methodologies and adequate portfolio combination.

Interest Rate Risk	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Interest rate risk refers to the impact of interest rate changes on the valuation of debt instruments. When interest rates rise, debt instruments prices generally decline and this may lower the market value of the fund's investment in debt instruments. The reverse may apply when interest rates fall. In order to mitigate interest rate risk, the Manager will need to manage the debt portfolio taking into account the coupon rate and time to maturity of the debt instruments.
Concentration Risk	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Concentration risk is the probability of loss arising from lack of diversification, investing too heavily in one industry, one geographic area or one type of security. Funds are exposed to concentration risk when funds are concentrated to high levels of individual stock and sector exposures. Excessive concentration could also give rise to liquidity risk or stock specific risk losses. Concentration risk could be mitigated by investing into different asset classes and securities in different sectors or different geographical location within the approved limits. Although the funds may have the ability to diversify, there may be circumstances that it may hold concentrated position. The risk could also be mitigated through close monitoring of investments in which exposure is deemed as highly concentrated.
Derivative Risk	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Fund may invest in the derivative mainly for hedging and to a lower extent for investment purposes. The derivatives are highly volatile instruments and their market values may be subject to wide fluctuations and expose the Fund to potential gains or losses due to mark-to-market market value. The value of such derivatives depends on a variety of market factors, including improvements in the underlying reference index, the variability or volatility of such index, interest rate, foreign exchange rate and other factors. The value may not necessarily change in constant to changes in the underlying reference index.
Structured Product Risk	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Fund may also invest structured product which are designed as a hold-to-maturity investment. Therefore, the early repurchase amount may be lesser than the principal amount originally invested or part thereof, in the case of partial repurchase. Any request to restructure the structured products, if agreed by the issuer, is effectively an early repurchase by the Fund. The full amount that would have been received is used to invest in a new investment on such terms that are applicable to the new movement, break cost and other losses incurred in discharging a related hedging or other arrangements made in the design of the structured product.

These risks are being reported to the Risk Management Committee of the Board of Directors of PNB on a regular basis.

Investors are reminded that the above list of risk may not be exhaustive and if necessary, they should consult their adviser(s) e.g. their bankers, lawyers, stockbrokers or independent professional advisers for a better understanding of the risks.
